

Green Woods Road Through Falls Brook Gorge

3.2 Miles

Legend

- WAYPOINTS
- Roads
- Track

Hikers Narrative

Starting at the Green Woods Road intersection continue hiking through mixed forest and begin to enter the geological changes of Falls Brook Gorge.

Take caution in the wet and slippery conditions but be sure to take your time and camera and enjoy the geological wonders of the washbowls and natural stone bridges that have taken millions of years to sculpt. Continue on through the Falls Brook Gorge till you come to footbridge crossing at the New Hampshire / Massachusetts line.

This is the end of the M+M trail in New Hampshire and at this point the Tully trail and NET continue together as one trail for a couple of miles.

Take trail before crossing footbridge to get to Royalston Falls.

Falls Brook Shelter a large 8 to 12 person shelter is straight ahead and up a knoll.

Continue on the trail following Falls Brook for a third of a mile. Again take caution and be prepared with a picnic lunch to enjoy the spectacular Royalston Falls.

Follow trail back, cross footbridge and take left on trail and ascend trail back to the Rt. 32 Newton Cemetery TH.

Detailed Trailhead information (TH)

The Rt. 32 Newton Cemetery is located on the right coming from Massachusetts 1.8 MI after the Rt 32/68 split. Take caution as it comes up quickly and is easy to miss. It is on your right .6 MI from the New Hampshire border. Parking for 6 to 8 cars. The parking lot is rather choppy and it can be difficult to place cars correctly so please park as expediently as possible.

Green Woods Road trailhead is located exactly 1.1 MI on the right hand side from the Rt. 32 Newton Cemetery heading north.

Travel down Green Woods road .8 miles and park on a very limited grassy area on left for 2 to 3 cars.

Cross Green Woods Road and start your adventure.

Photo by Joann Deacon 2019